CURRENT RESIDENTS

PGY-3 Residents

Matthew Humphreys, MD

Matthew is an Undersea Medical Officer in the US NAVY Medical Corps where he has worked with Navy SEALs, EOD and the Navy Medical Command. In addition to his studies, Matt enjoys his free time surfing and going to the beach with his wife and four children.

Ryan Moran, MD
Ryan holds a Bachelor’s in Economics from the University of California, Davis and earned his MD from the University of California, San Francisco. His research interests include health policy, health economics, and substance use and abuse incentives with tobacco. His preventive medicine interests lie between health policy, health economics and clinical care.

Porchia Rich, MD, MPH, MSW

Porchia grew up in San Diego, California, and earned her bachelor’s in Psychology from the University of Chicago. After a brief career as a case manager, she returned to school to earn her Master of Public Health degree. She then completed her Master of Social Work degree to better understand the impact of poverty on health. At the University of California, San Francisco, she earned her medical degree and completed her Preventive Medicine residency training. Her research and clinical interests include health disparities, mental health, and behavioral health. She enjoys Pilates, watching classic movies, and spending time with her fiancé and two young sons.
CURRENT RESIDENTS

Deepa Sannidhi, MD

Deepa was born and raised in New Jersey. She attended Rutgers University where she earned her Bachelor’s degree in Psychology. Upon graduation, she moved to South Carolina to pursue her Doctor of Medicine at the Medical University of South Carolina. Deepa spent her third and fourth years of medical school in Connecticut. She completed a 4-year combined Internal Medicine and Pediatrics residency program at Children's National Medical Center in Washington, DC. Deepa enjoys listening to music of different genres, is an avid reader, a foodie, and loves the outdoors. She even blogs about it! She's super excited to explore San Diego with her husband and high school sweet-heart.

David Crabtree, MD

David grew up in rural southwestern Virginia and graduated from East Tennessee State University with University Honors. Upon graduation, he completed a combined Internal Medicine and Pediatrics residency program at the University of Virginia. When David isn't working, he enjoys running, swimming, spending time with his dog “Marlo,” and going to electronic dance music festivals.
CURRENT RESIDENTS

After earning his M.D. at the University of California San Diego School of Medicine, Sam decided to switch paths from a hospitalist practice and part-time in a physician leadership/management role with a focus on quality and performance improvement.

Sankar Sridaran, M.D.
Amish Talwar, MD

Amish received his BA in Political Science from Rutgers University before completing his MD at Columbia University. His areas of interest include general medicine with a focus on global health. His areas of interest also include vector-borne diseases and health informatics.